THE EXTENSION OF
BLOCKROCK & GAINSPOT
ON THE ETHEREUM CHAIN

Introduction

Redefining Success Together.

Maximum transparency, fully community-driven and focused on the common good. BlockRock & GainSpot are unique crypto community projects that aim to reduce the power of large investors in the markets and distribute the resulting profits to the general population. The success story of BlockRock & GainSpot now also begins on the Ethereum Chain with the third project Brains.

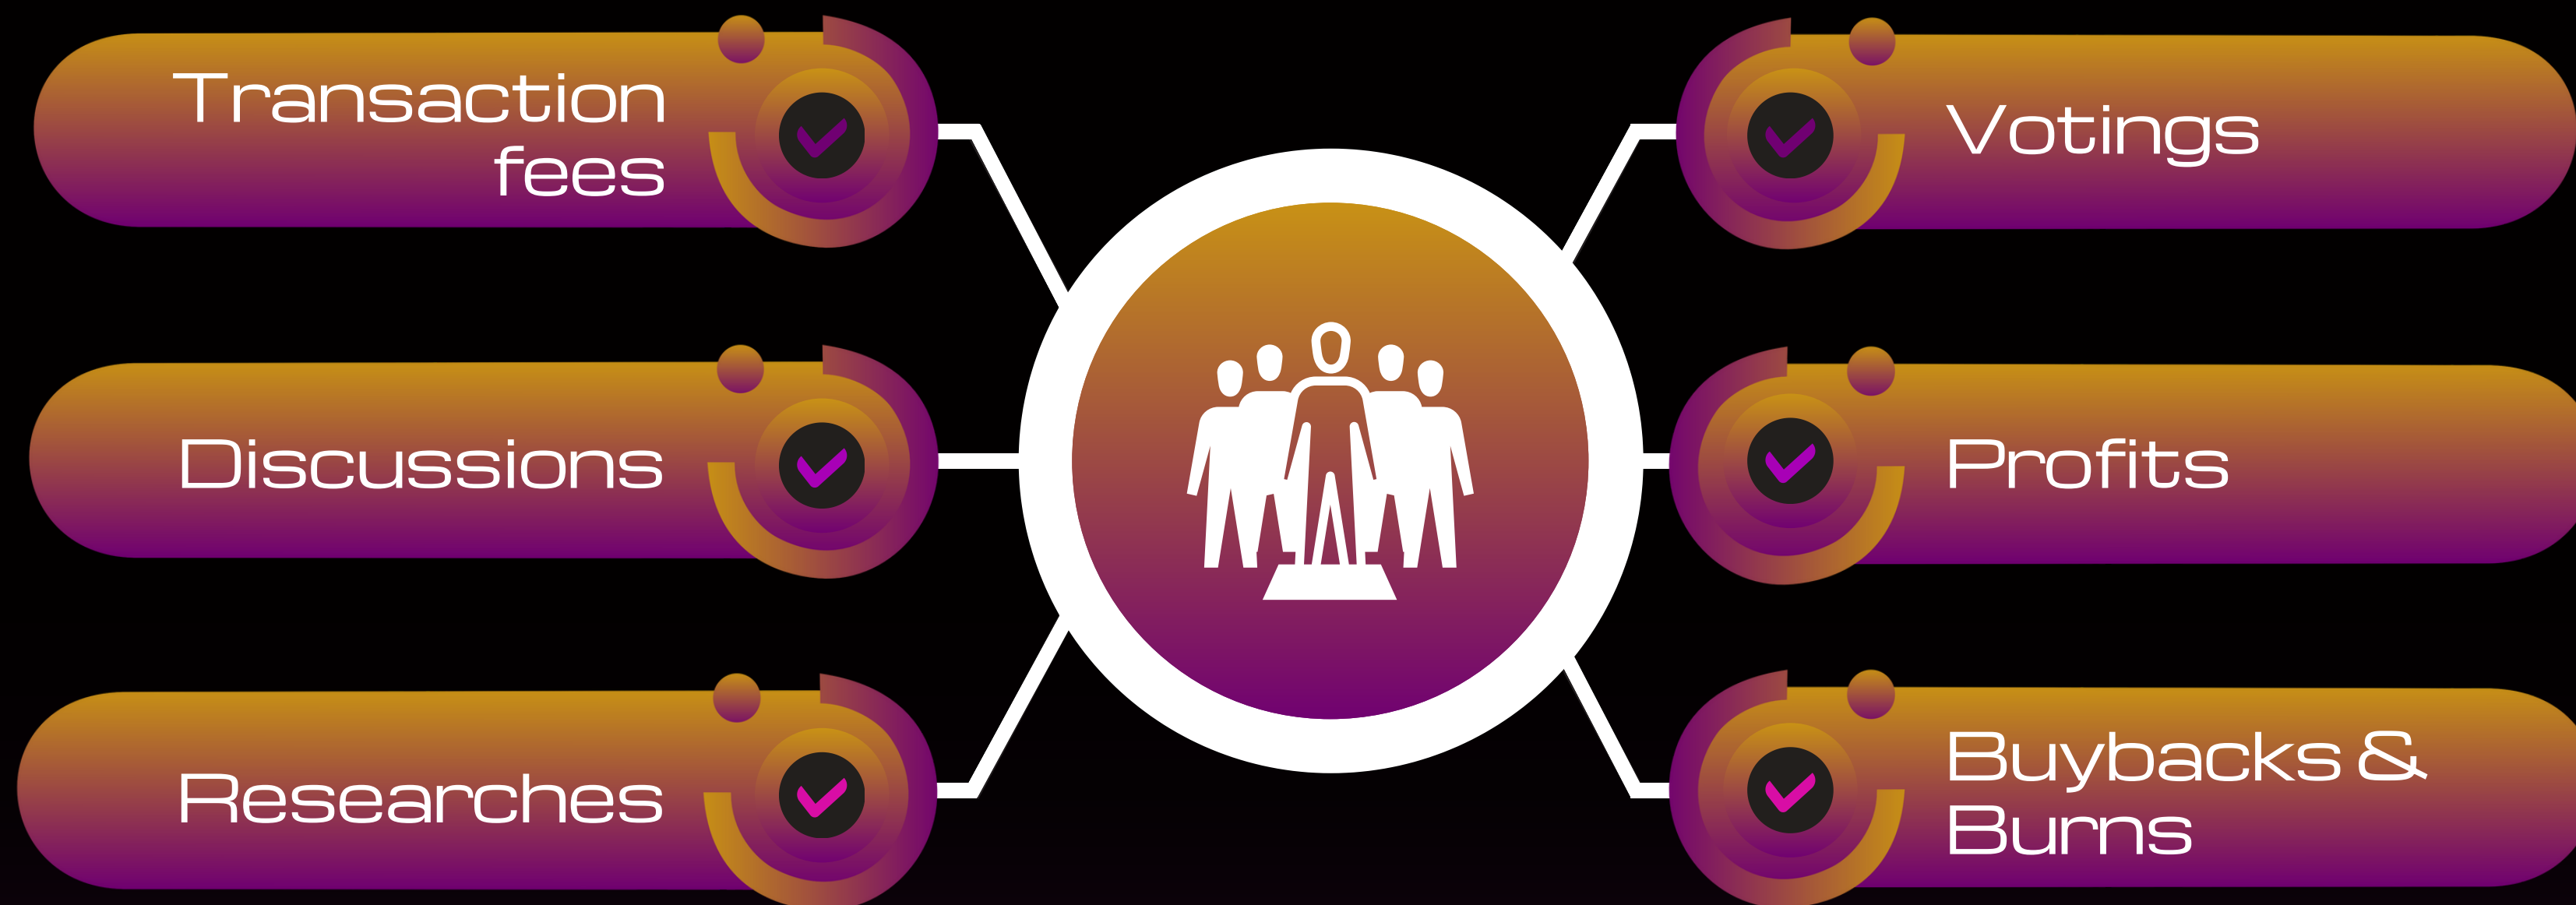

To see what the community has achieved in recent years and what opportunities you now have with the launch of BRAIN$, visit the Blockrock and GainSpot websites.

Our System

Our System

Transaction Fees

The transaction fees will be collected in the investment wallets weekly. The addresses of the wallets are public.

Discussions

New projects and investment opportunities are sought, proposed and discussed in the community (e.g. cryptocurrencies, staking, yield farming).

The community then has one week to discuss the individual proposals. If a proposal receives positive feedback from the community, it is submitted to the team.

Researches

All proposals submitted by the community are discussed, evaluated, reviewed and approved by the team members. A certain number of investment opportunities are then released for voting.

Votings

The community decides weekly by majority vote in which projects the collected transaction fees should be invested. We have our own DApp for our votes. Here you can participate anonymously in our votes.

Our System

Profits

Blockrock is a long-term investor and invests with an eye to the future. Profits will be realized in the next bull run. Profit taking is also determined by the community. In addition to investments, we also generate profits through marketing and many other businesses.

Buybacks & Burns

All earnings are used for buybacks and burns or for reinvestments. The community also decides on this by majority vote. Through the buybacks and burns, we achieve a price increase from which everyone benefits equally.

Experience the synergy:
GainSpot, BlockRock and Brains hand in hand.

With GainSpot we fulfill the desire of many investors for exciting and promising investment opportunities, while with BlockRock we invest exclusively in large and established projects. From now on also with Brains on the Ethereum chain. In this way, we create a unique synergy between the three projects and offer you as an investor a comprehensive and diverse portfolio that offers both security and high growth potential.
