

BRAINS TOKEN Whitepaper

Foreword

No empty promises, no exaggerated future visions, no fantasies of quick riches. For years, we have been a solid project, operating with reason and transparency - generating real profits. Together as a community, we benefit from these achievements and grow sustainably, rather than merely redistributing wealth.

On this page, unlike most projects, we are not here to sell you illusions or dreams, but to offer you the opportunity to work with us towards realistic goals and achieve success together.

Step into the future of finance

As traditional fiat systems buckle under the weight of injustice, greed, and uncontrolled money printing, we are embarking on a bold mission: to accelerate the global adoption of Bitcoin and radically transform the financial landscape.

Read this whitepaper to learn more about our vision and objectives. Discover how you, as an investor, can benefit from the immense potential of our ventures and the Brains Token. Join a movement that is redefining finance and returning power to the people.

Our Vision

Bitcoin represents a groundbreaking gift for humanity—the most advanced currency we’ve ever had. It’s vital that everyone recognizes its potential. However, for many, the complexities of Bitcoin and blockchain can be daunting, or they simply lack the time to delve into the details. That’s where Bros & Gains comes in—we simplify access to the world of Bitcoin, making it more understandable and profitable for investors.

Our mission is to elevate awareness of Bitcoin and cryptocurrencies, not just to convince, but to actively educate people. To achieve this, we’ve built a network of innovative companies that bridge traditional industries with the crypto world. We’ve developed cutting-edge distribution structures and explored ways to seamlessly connect people to cryptocurrencies, even indirectly. With our all-in-one solution, we offer a comprehensive platform that attracts both crypto investors and newcomers, opening the door to the future of digital finance.

The Genesis

Bros & Gains originated from a decentralized crypto community, starting as a community-driven project under the name BlockRock with zero initial capital. After three profitable years, even in challenging bear markets, we've successfully built capital, tested our systems, and gained extensive experience in the crypto space.

Now, we are ready to take our vision to the next level by launching official companies - offering investors a unique opportunity to capitalize on our proven success and continued growth trajectory.

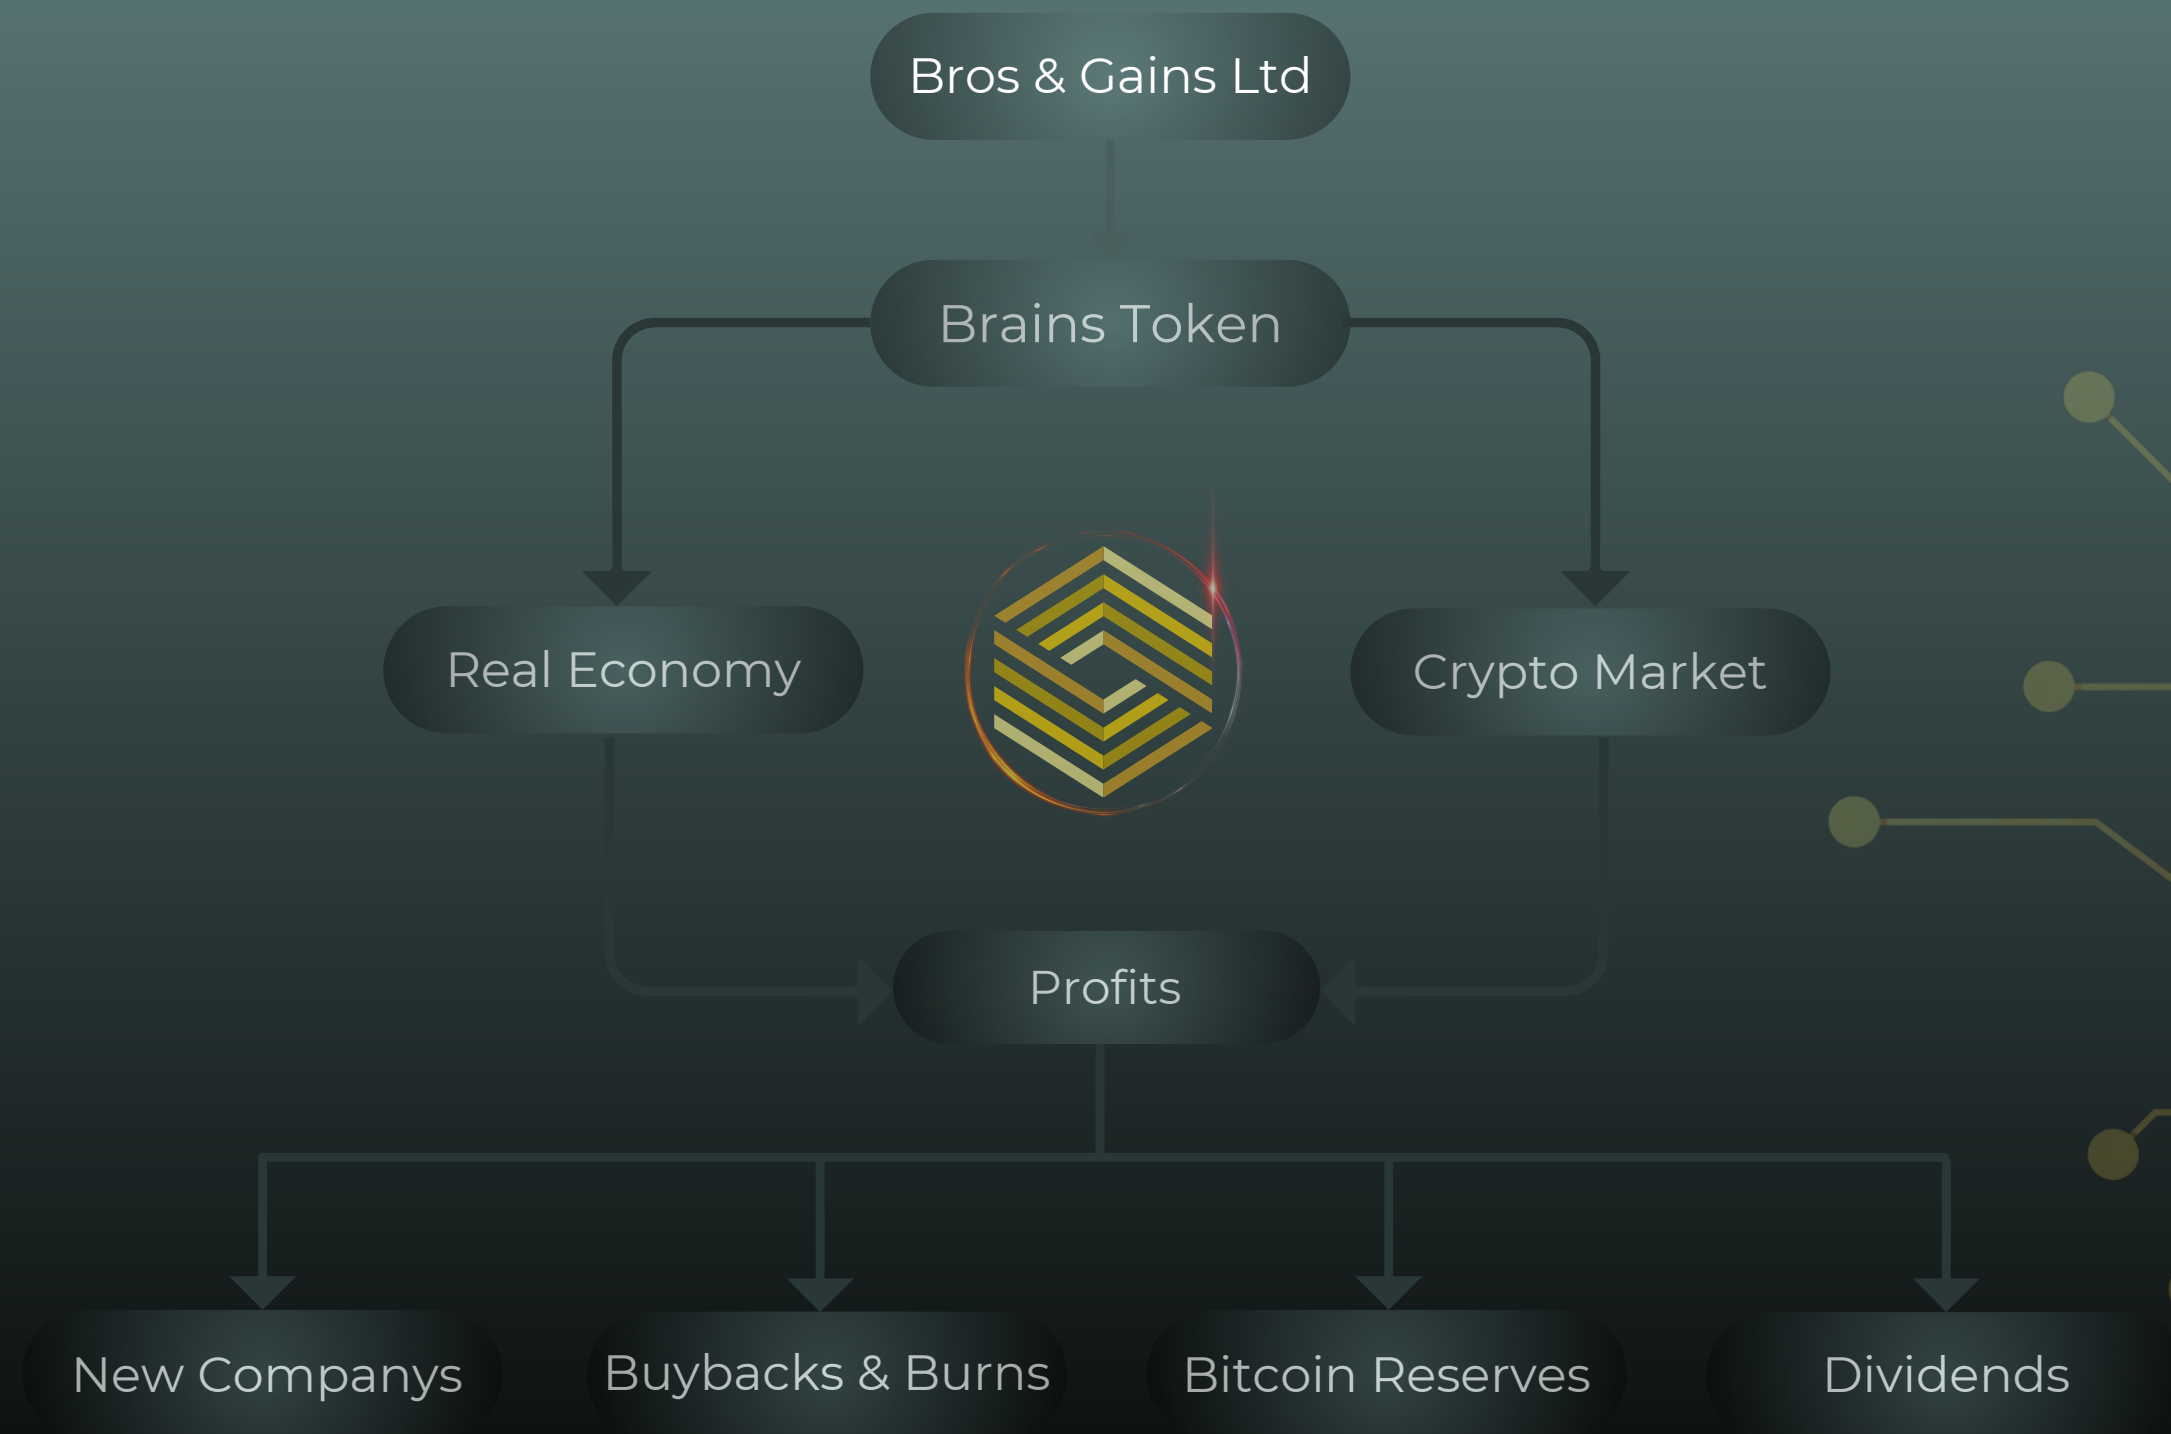

Bros & Gains

All-in-One Investment Solution

Our exclusive Brains Token gives you the unique opportunity to cover the entire crypto market with just one investment. It combines holdings in dynamic, promising crypto projects, leading assets such as Bitcoin, and solid companies in the real economy. Each Brains Token not only reflects our company's profits and reserves, but also grants you a direct claim to dividends and lets you participate directly in our future success. This allows you to benefit from both the potential of innovative blockchain technologies and stable traditional markets.

By investing, you are also supporting the global adoption of Bitcoin. All profits generated from both the crypto market and traditional industries are reinvested into our ecosystem and converted into Bitcoin. Additionally, the Brains Token actively promotes Bitcoin adoption, as its liquidity on trading exchanges is backed by Bitcoin.

The Ecosystem

The Brains Token

Our proprietary token, BRAINS, has been specifically designed to provide our investors with the opportunity to share in our success. Each BRAINS token represents a stake in our crypto portfolio, Bitcoin reserves, and revenue from our real-world activities.

To promote Bitcoin adoption and enhance trust, the BRAINS token is secured by Bitcoin on trading exchanges. This strategy not only creates value for our investors but also positions BRAINS as an attractive investment instrument in the emerging crypto landscape.

Secured Tokens & Liquidity

The majority of the tokens earmarked for the company, sales agency, taxes, and branding will be backed by a vesting program to ensure long-term commitment and stability. For more information, please consult the "Locks" section of our menu.

Liquidity on decentralized exchanges is pegged to Wrapped Bitcoins, which means that the price of Brains Tokens is directly affected by Bitcoin's performance. Our enthusiasm for Bitcoin and its underlying technology is so great that we want to reflect its success in our own market performance.

Dividend & Transparency

Every six months, we publish a detailed report outlining all income and expenses, ensuring full transparency—a practice familiar from our BlockRock days. These reports include all team and company wallets, making them auditable at any time.

In addition to buybacks and token burns, Bros & Gains offers dividend payouts. A portion of the revenue—whether from transaction fees, merchandise sales, or crypto trading profits—is allocated to a special savings account. At the start of each half-year, you can stake your Brains tokens in our dividend wallet to earn attractive distributions. Your dividend depends on two factors: the revenue generated and the number of tokens you stake for the next six months.

After six months, you'll automatically receive your staked tokens along with your dividend. Better yet, the next staking cycle begins immediately, allowing you to continue earning without interruption. Let your Brains Tokens work for you!

Profits and Distribution

Our corporate profits are used strategically to create sustainable value for our investors. A highlight: Part of the proceeds will go towards the buyback and burning of Brains tokens. This process strengthens the value of the tokens and drives the price development in a targeted manner. In addition, Brains holders benefit directly from regular dividend distributions, while we strategically build up Bitcoin reserves at the same time - a basis for tapping into exciting and promising business areas.

We have already achieved something impressive in the test phase: Without start-up capital, we were able to build up a portfolio of almost half a million dollars. We are now using this capital to scale our successfully proven system and take it to the next level. Our goal: even more growth and new dimensions of value creation.

Bros & Gains Ltd.

Bros & Gains Limited (Clifton House, Fitzwilliam Street Lower, Dublin, Ireland) is our central company, strategically coordinating and managing all business sectors and ventures. The system behind Bros & Gains is a proven model that has been successfully tested and optimized over the years, creating a self-sustaining cycle that facilitates limitless growth and profitability.

To optimize tax benefits and maximize value for both our ecosystem and our investors, we pursue an international expansion strategy, establishing our companies and subsidiaries in strategically selected countries. This not only enhances cost efficiency but also provides access to new markets and innovative growth opportunities.

Clothing and Crypto

Bros & Gains is not just another crypto project - we are revolutionizing the intersection of fashion and cryptocurrency, positioning ourselves as an innovative fashion brand at the heart of this emerging industry. The global apparel industry, an impressive trillion-dollar market, holds huge opportunities, and we are focusing on a dynamic niche: crypto-inspired clothing. Each of our garments offers not just style but also comes with Brains Tokens as a bonus, providing our customers with added value.

Moreover, we open exclusive raffles where our buyers have the chance to win even more cryptocurrencies. By combining fashion, innovation, and real investment potential, we create a unique offering that not only captivates consumers but also enhances the appeal for investors. Be part of this exciting journey that redefines the boundaries between fashion and cryptocurrency!

Clothing and Crypto

In the initial phase, we are leveraging strategic partnerships with reputable service providers who will fully manufacture our products in Germany. These high-quality items will be offered internationally through our own online shop, providing us with direct access to global markets.

Furthermore, we are already in promising negotiations with producers in Turkey. Our long-term goal is to optimize the value chain by establishing our own production facility in Ankara. By taking direct control of the manufacturing of our collections, we aim to significantly increase profit margins while ensuring flexibility and quality. These steps not only promise to enhance profitability but also strengthen our market position.

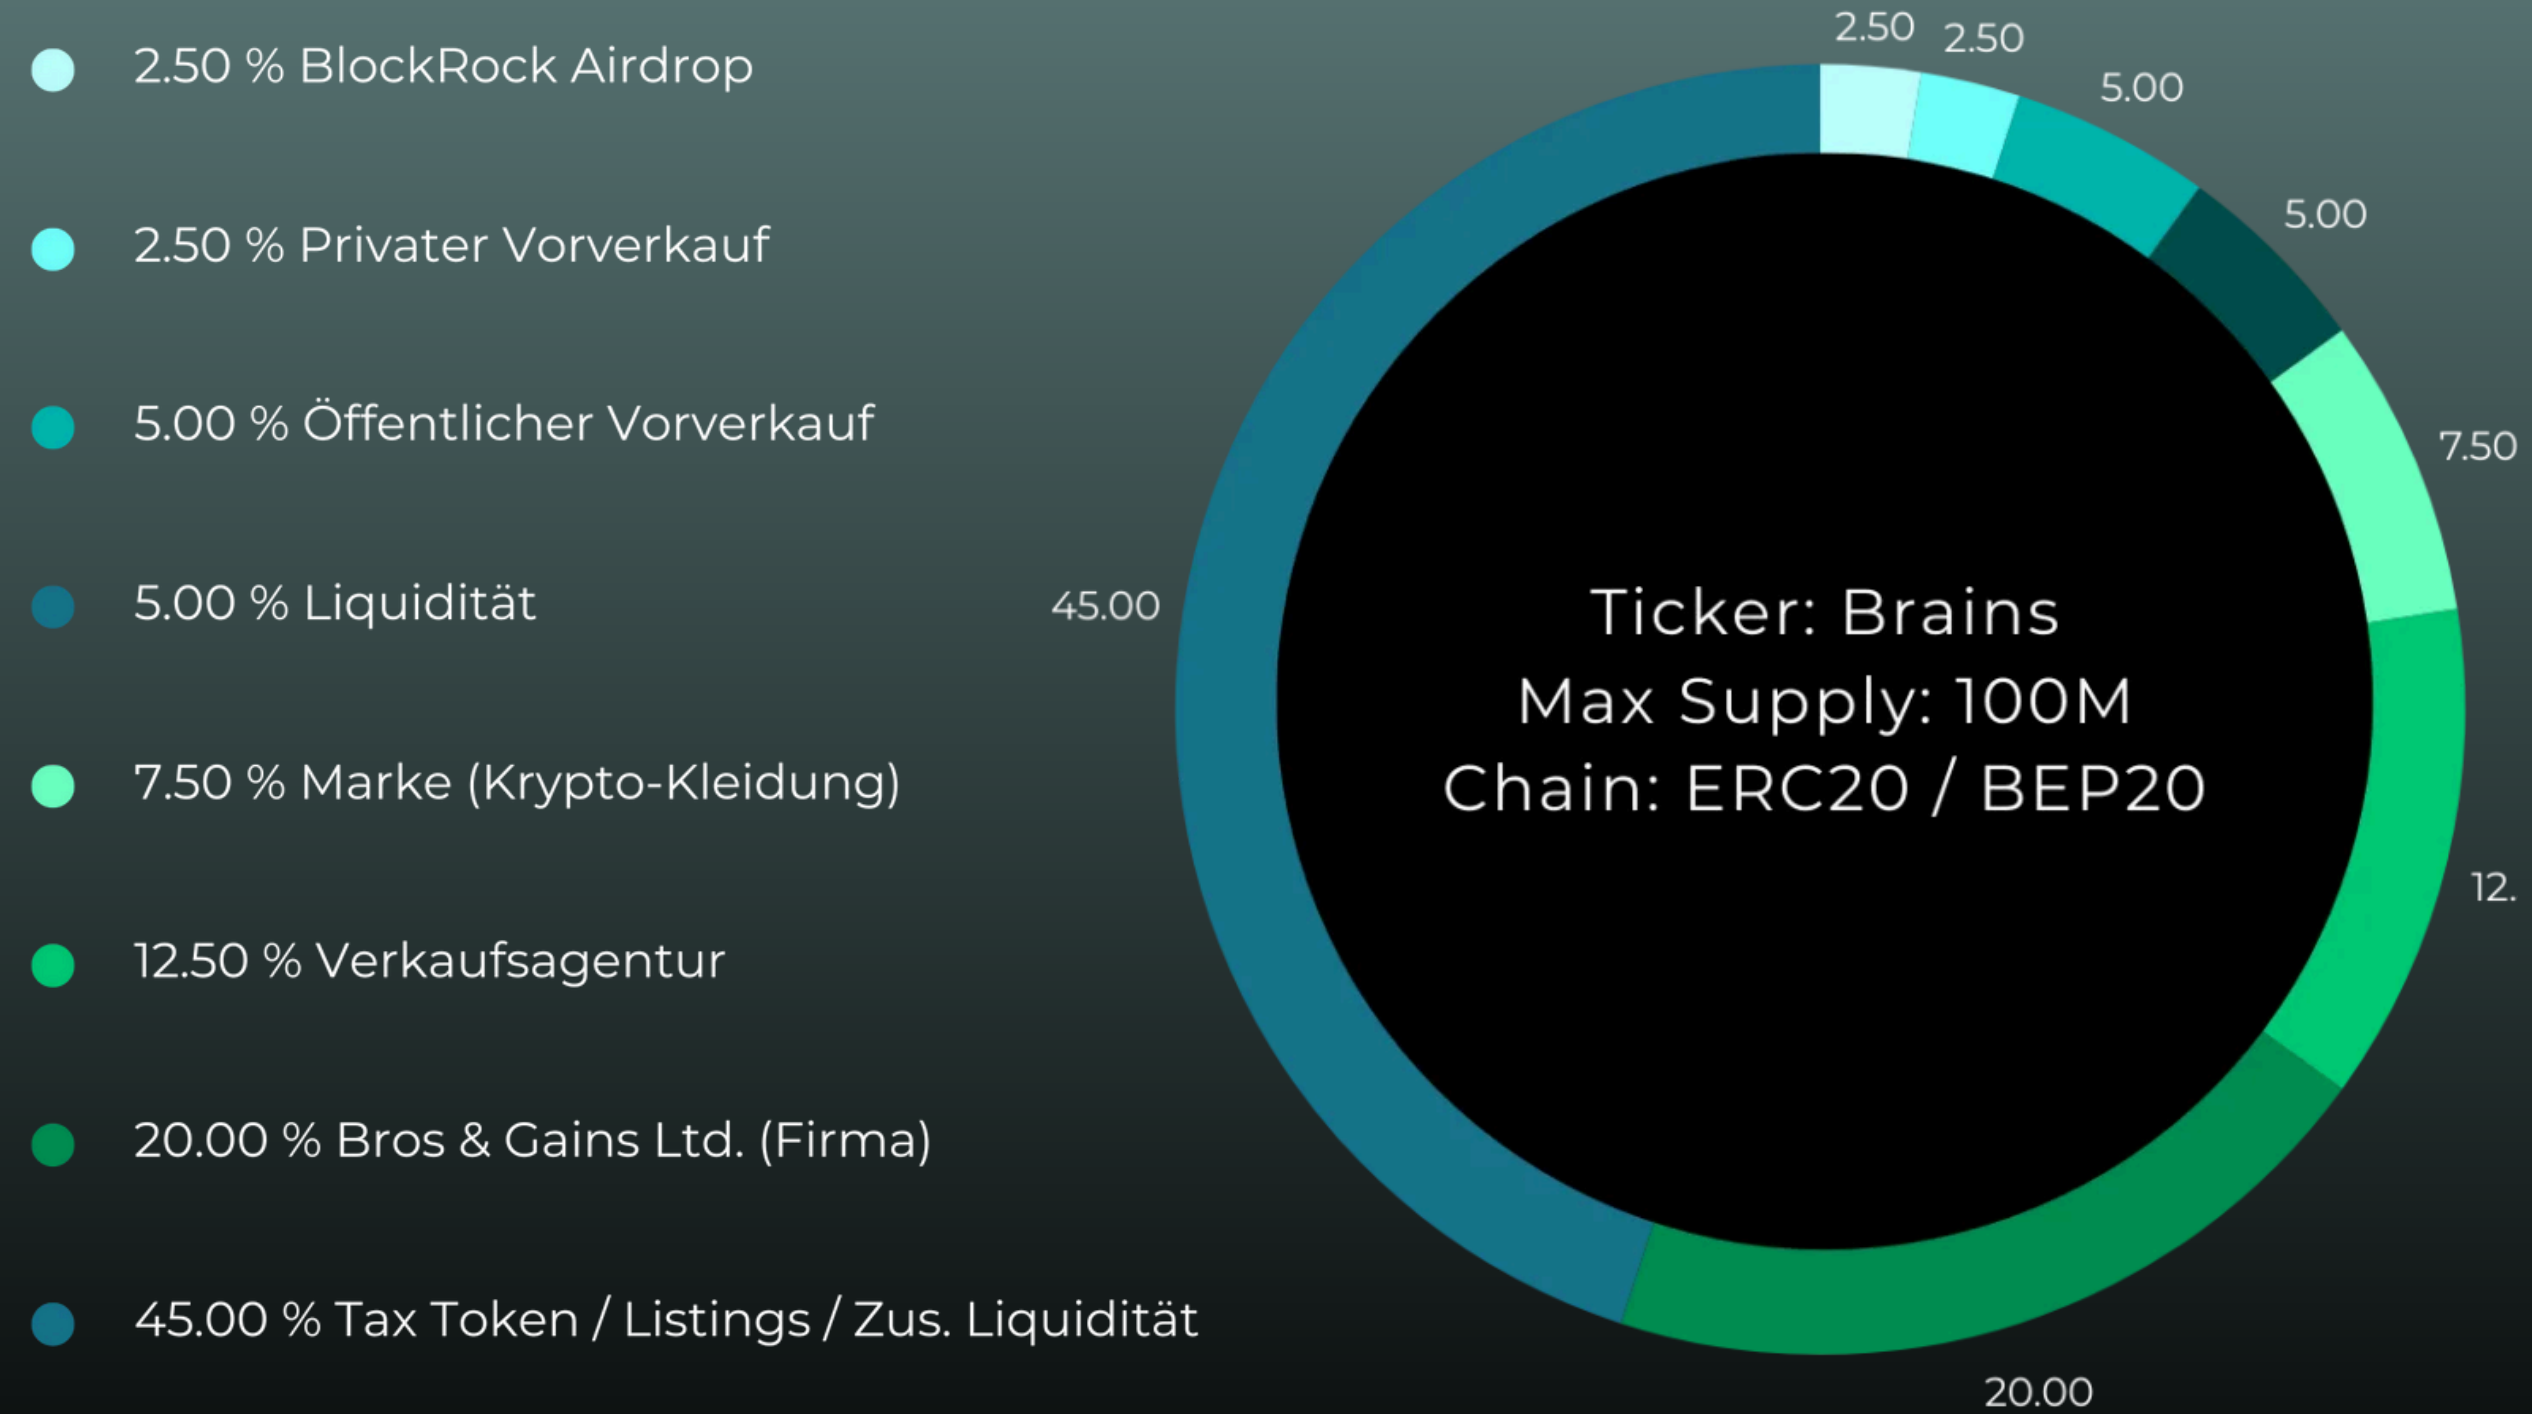

Bros & Gains Crypto Cafes

The hospitality industry is undoubtedly one of the most stable sectors. However, at Bros & Gains, our focus is on fostering social interaction. We aim to create a space where crypto enthusiasts can easily meet for a coffee or a drink after a long day.

Our goal is to bring the crypto community closer together. True, strong alliances and communities are built through personal connections, not just online. That's why we believe it's essential to step away from the internet from time to time.

We will gradually open crypto cafés in various cities and expand this concept through a franchise model. Stay tuned for upcoming meetups and events with the Bros! The launch is planned for Q4 2025—an exciting opportunity to be part of this innovative movement.
